RANCH RODEO RIDES ON IN RIDGWAY!

By Caitlin Switzer

RIDGWAY-For a town with a population of around 962 residents, the fact that more than 4,000 people came to last year's Labor Day Weekend Rodeo event in Ridgway says it all. Three jam-packed days of family-style fun and rodeo thrills honor a tradition that looks back to the town's earliest days as a ranching community.

A history of the Ouray County Rodeo Association written by Anita DeVeny notes that the original track at the Ouray County Fairgrounds was used first on July Fourth, 1892, and that the town acquired the land for today's fair and rodeo grounds in April of 1898. DeVeny's history also recalls that a large ad in the Ouray Herald on Sept. 2, 1920 advertised a -Catelmen's Days Celebration and Old Timers Picnic and BBQ to be held in Ridgway on Sept. 6." The program included an airplane exhibition and stunt flights, a BBQ in the town park, horse races, steer roping, bucking brones, a picture show at the Sherbino and a big dance. Today's rodeo kicks off with the ranch rodeo on Saturday, Sept. 5, CPRA Rodeo and Firemen's dance on Sunday, Sept. 6, and a parade, BBQ in the park, and MONTROSE-If touring six incredible properties, tasting fresh, delicious foods and toasting it all with a libation and dessert is not enough, you can nourish your mind and spirit as well at Savor the San Juans 2015. Because this year, Savor the San Juans welcomes a new partner-Montrose Center for the Arts, a growing community group dedicated to uniting local artists to bring a Center for the Arts to Montrose.

MONTROSE COUNTY IMPLEMENTS ORGANIZATIONAL CHANGES TO BETTER ALIGN WITH STRATEGIC PLAN PRIORITIES

Special to the Mirror

MONTROSE-Montrose County has made changes to its organizational structure to better meet both the needs of its community members and goals outlined in the citizen-driven strategic business plan.

These changes include dissolution of the Public Works Division and creation of the Road and Bridge Division led by newly promoted Road and Bridge Director Joe Budagher; a physical move for the Planning and Development Division to 949 North 2nd Street combined with an organizational move for the Engineering Department under the leadership of the Planning and Development Director Steve White; and the promotion of Facilities Director Dave Laursen to Assistant County Manager.

These changes reflect not only the growing demands placed on the county, but also the chief focus of our organization—the citizen-driven strategic plan," said County Manager Ken Norris.

—Whether an employee is a community member's first point of contact at the county or an elected official, the citizendriven strategic business plan guides our daily activities and long-term planning."

One of the many advantages to these changes is the consolidation of services for homeowners and developers with the relocation of Planning and Development and Engineering. For instance, a builder or homeowner will be able to ask questions of all involved county staff while applying for building permits.

At this time, the public is asked to please use the 317 South 2nd Street address for Planning and Development until the move is completed.

The public will be notified when the transition officially occurs.

Lastly, Facilities Director Dave Laursen has been named Assistant County Manager to aid County Manager Ken Norris in the growing demands of county management.

Norris' duties will include the external functions of the county (intergovernmental and community relations), daily operations of the Office of County Management and overseeing the Facilities Division. Laursen will provide leadership for the day-to-day internal operations of the county and continue to supervise the Fleet Department.

To learn more about the county's citizendriven strategic business plan, please visit www.montrosecounty.net.

POURING SMILES AT LIGHTHOUSE COFFEE SHOPPE AND EATERY!

Kim Zahniser, above, and her husband Jim opened the Light House Coffee Shoppe and Eatery a year ago, in the house Kim grew up in at 1047 North First Street.

By Caitlin Switzer

MONTROSE-If you have enjoyed a breakfast, lunch, early dinner or even a beverage at the Light House Coffee Shoppe and Eatery, you know that this is a special place. If you have not been in yet, just remember to bring room not only for a great meal prepared just for you, but for happiness.

Kim created the Light House Coffee Shoppe and Eatery with her husband and fellow Montrose High School alum Jim, in the home where she grew up at 1047 North First Street. -We're not a drive-through, we are a destination," explains Kim. -We serve real food, from real family recipes."

The biscuits and pastries are always fresh, with breakfast served until 11 a.m. Lunches include fresh salads, wraps and rolls, as well as savory soups and chile. The menu also includes —Mouthwatering Meatery" items for late afternoon.

BOB CORNUKE TO SPEAK IN MONTROSE

Special to the Mirror

MONTROSE – Bob Cornuke, soon to be seen on his own show on The Discovery Channel, will be speaking in Montrose on Thursday, September 3, 2015 at 7:00PM at Calvary Chapel (2201 S Townsend Ave., behind Hastings). Bob is a biblical investigator, international explorer, lecturer and author of nine books. His topic for the night will be the location of the Ark of the Covenant. There is no charge for the event, but donations will be accepted. Proceeds will send two area women to Ethiopia on a missions trip, where they will work in an orphanage and help to establish a maternity ward.

Bob Cornuke has participated in over fifty expeditions around the world searching for the lost locations described in the Bible. These Journeys include searching for the real Mount Sinai in Egypt and Saudi Arabia, looking for the remains of Noah's ark in Turkey with astronaut Jim Irwin (Eighth man to walk on the moon) and researching Assyrian and Babylonian flood accounts in Iran. He has followed ancient accounts of the Ark of the Covenant in Israel to Egypt and across Ethiopia highlands. In the search for Paul's shipwreck, off the coast of Malta, his research team has identified four anchors believed to be the very ones described in Acts: 27. Bob's latest book relocates the location of Solomon's temple completely off the Temple Mount and places it in the City of David. The research effort on the temple placement is astounding Bible students worldwide.

Bob has appeared on National Geographic Channel, CBS, NBC's Dateline, Good Morning America, CNN, MSNBC, Fox, ABC, History Channel and Ripley's Believe It or Not.

He has travelled across Afghanistan during US bombing strikes on a video/photographic assignment and was invited by the President's staff to conduct a Bible study for White House personnel.

Bob is currently president of the Bible Archaeology Search and Exploration (BASE) Institute in Colorado Springs, CO. He also serves as a special advisor for the National Council on Bible Curriculum in Public Schools. -We want to get back to the basics, and we want people to think about what they are eating," Jackson said.

Black Canyon Market was started a decade ago in Olathe, with the intent of offering more healthful options for people with such health concerns as celiac disease. According to the National Foundation for Celiac Awareness, the disease affects roughly 1 percent of Americans, or one of every 133 people. Since taking over the company Jan. 1, Jackson has worked to provide tasteful options for clients with dietary limitations.

Our gluten free pizzas are awesome," ten free breads are really developing, so they actually have flavor.

is," he said, -and that there are so many additives in processed foods today that it is truly scary."

The baked goods offered at the market itself are baked by a local Mennonite lady, he said, and as many other local products are featured as possible.

-Supporting local producers is key," Jackson said.

Perhaps one of the business's most popular items is the milk from the Morning Fresh Dairy in Bellvue, sold in returnable glass bottles and delicious.

-They have been in business since 1894, a six-generation family business," Jackson said, -and they have 7,000 home delivery customers on the Eastern Slope."

COMMUNITY LIGHTNING RODS Voices that spark conversations

PEOPLE WANT TRANSPARENCY IN GOVERNMENT: JIM HAUGSNESS

Interview by Gail Marvel
MONTROSE-In 1966 Jim Haugsness signed with the Denver Broncos as a linebacker and played one year. He said, —In college you're pretty darn good, but you get up to that level and there are a lot of good athletes. A lot of it is timing and luck." Jim admits to still having the linebacker mentality of —seek and destroy!"

Jim's career path includes being a fireman and fire medic; owning an auto repair business and rising to the position of Fire Chief in Steamboat Springs, CO, as well as in Sandy, OR. After retiring Jim moved to Montrose in 2000. He said, —Montrose was less expensive, a nice area, good weather, low cost of living and low taxes."

It wasn't until after he retired that Jim became involved in community politics, —Working for the government you need to measure your activity as an employee ...

now I find enjoyment in being a demanding taxpayer."

With institutional knowledge and experience in safety Jim recognized a huge deficit in financing for the sheriff's department and in 2002 he was determined to make a difference. He said, —The sheriff's office was underfunded. It was so bad that some sheriff's office employees qualified for food stamps. I'm a conservative and I want some assurances that taxpayer money is spent where taxpayers want it [spent]." Jim was instrumental in finding funding for the local sheriff's office, fire and medic stations.

In 2004 and 2008 Jim thought about running for county commissioner, but it wasn't until 2012 that he challenged incumbent David White. - spent $10,000 of my own money. I felt it was worth it to make the investment in the community and in myself — to put my mind and money where my mouth was. I was the only person on my campaign committee and I laid the cash on the line." Jim, whose campaign slogan was 4 m a problem solver, not a trouble maker," lost the race by 90 votes. He said, — 'm too old to try again. Hopefully we'll see some good candidates in the next race." Championing the importance of community boards Jim said. The biggest benefit of citizen review boards is that they provide efficacy for the agency and they offer institutional knowledge. People are concerned about government and want transparency. When they're not transparent, all kinds of conspiracy theories come up." Jim is currently the chair of the CASA Board and part of his personality is to be an advocate, —It's essential to have committees to get the public view and provide public advocacy."

Jim tries not to alienate people, but he does speak his mind. He said, -I have opinions on everything...which is not always necessarily good. Some people don't respect my opinion, but being respected in the community is something I strive for. I avoid cliques." In public meetings Jim sometimes asks questions to which he already knows the answer, —I want others in the room to be informed [as I am]. I have a pretty quick wit, which people don't always appreciate. I have fun with people and enjoy the controversy." Jim tries to watch how he comes across to others, You can be blunt, but what you want in the end is to be effective. It's a constant balance." When asked if he considered himself to be a watchdog Jim said, -Watchdogs get down in the weeds on a lot of issues. I'm more confident in looking at the large picture." Jim views himself as a kind person, -I-don't want to be hurtful, but I'm not afraid to call others

TRAVEL RECON COMING TO MONTROSE!

Presence of Welcome Home Montrose a factor in decision, officials say Travel Recon, relocating to Montrose, provides detailed and practical threat analyses for civilian travelers. Company logo above.

By Caitlin Switzer

REGIONAL-Montrose welcomes 13 more primary jobs in the near future, with the upcoming relocation of Travel Recon, a company that employs experienced security professionals and military veterans to create travel analysis products and security services.

The relocation of Travel Recon also represents a coordinated economic development effort between Montrose County and Montrose Economic Development Corporation (MEDC).

In a news release issued Aug. 24, Montrose County expressed its commitment to participating in tangible broadband projects to benefit the local economy. On Aug. 12th, the BOCC voted to award $22,500 funding to MEDC to be used for the acquisition of the required fiber optic infrastructure necessary for a new business in Montrose.

MEDC Executive Director Sandy Head noted that the positions created will be high tech jobs, and that the presence of Welcome Home Montrose and the Warrior Resource Center were key factors in the company's decision to come to Montrose. Under the terms of the agreement with MEDC, Travel Recon will create 13 new full-time jobs by Dec. 31, 2016. The jobs will pay an average of $41,000 annually.

-MEDC is appreciative of Montrose County's contribution toward our effort to bring Travel Recon to Montrose." Head said.

-Their long-range business plans are for more than 13 jobs and they will be bringing individuals from other areas to meet in Montrose several times a year. Beyond the economic impact to our community is the added bonus that Travel Recon will employ our veterans that have specific skill sets.

-Montrose County has been great to work with," she added.

Travel Recon was founded by Green Beret Toby Houchens, who serves as Chief Executive Officer. Houchens wished to create a more comprehensive, credible and useful service for travelers seeking real information on threats that exist at the cities they travel to.

According to the company's web site, www.travelrecon.com,

Travel Recon represents Houchens' answer to a simple question: —wh don't civilian travelers have access to detailed and practical threat analyses and updates while planning for and enjoying travel?"

—This is an important step for Montrose County, demonstrating our commitment to developing broadband infrastructure in our community as well as attracting new technology-based businesses," said BOCC Chairman David White.

-Job creation is a key factor in the county's citizen-driven strategic business plan and I am excited to see 13 additional well-paying jobs in Montrose."

TravelRecon was accepted into the Telluride Venture Accelerator earlier this year.

—Telluride Venture Accelerator is thrilled to have one of its Accelerator graduates—Travel Recon—locate in the region," Telluride Venture Accelerator Director Thea Chase said.

-We appreciate the efforts of MEDC, Montrose County and the Montrose community and look forward to further collaboration to support high-growth technology firms."

OPINION/EDITORIAL-LETTERS

Dear Editor:

Per the Dept of Reclamation and Mining Safety (DRMS), there are over 30 operating gravel mines in Montrose County. Also per DRMS, most gravel mines in the County reported little or no activity since 2006, due to lack of demand. While some of the mines are small or nearing the end of their lives, others are quite large and will provide gravel for Montrose County citizens for decades. Just the gravel mines north of Montrose have enough gravel for the next 100 years. Large, long-term mines are also located east of Montrose and on the West End. There is no gravel shortage in Montrose County, yet 2 of our 3 County Commissioners recently approved the nearly 200-acre, 60-year Uncompahgre Pit south of Montrose. This pit will destroy elk, mule deer and sage grouse habitat (latter 2 have declining populations). This pit will make a bigger mess of Hwy 550. Geologists have stated the gravel quality in the pit site is poor. Its operation will create no new jobs and produce negligible tax income for County coffers. And, it will disrupt the lives of hundreds of Montrose County residents living in subdivisions previously approved by County Commissioners.

So, why was the Uncompangre Pit approved if its product is not needed and it will cause more harm than good for the County? Because a few people, full of self-importance, wanted it at any cost. They believe the County is theirs to do with as they please. Along with BFFs, cronies and tag-alongs, they use typical bully methods of intimidation, threats, lies, gag orders, insults and big money to push their agenda. I urge you to read Montrose County's Code of Ethics and Conduct. (www.montrosecounty.net/ DocumentCenter/Home/View/785). It is obvious several Montrose County officials have not read it - or have chosen to ignore

Experiencing the (local) Church

WRITER GAIL MARVEL VISITS OLATHE ASSEMBLY OF GOD

By Gail Marvel

OLATHE-My visit to the Assembly of God Church (Olathe) took place on July 12, 2015. There were about 30 people in attendance, and although all ages were represented, the majority ranged from middle-age to seniors.

The three-member praise team was accompanied by the keyboard, guitar and drums. While the verses to praise song were displayed on the video screen, the titles weren't given, but deducing from the repetitive nature of the lyrics the selections were, —Joy Comes in the Morning,"—My Help Comes From You,"—This is God in His Holy Place," and —I Am Not Alone."

Reverend Justin Hines called for a time of greeting and worshippers left their seats to greet one another, shake hands and welcome visitors.

Continuing his sermon series on the seven letters of Revelation, Pastor Hines read Revelation 2:12-17, which is the letter to the church in Pergamum. The pastor noted that with the previous church (Smyrna) Satan's tactic was to work from the outside in. However, with Pergamum, Satan was trying to destroy the church from within.

In a brief history lesson the pastor told the audience that at one time Pergamum was considered the capital of Asia and their library of 200,000 volumes was second only to that of Alexandria. Pergamum was home to a lot of pagan worship, as well as hosting temples to some of the Caesars of Rome. Jesus said of Pergamum, —know where you live—where Satan has his throne" (Rev 2:13 NIV).

Pastor Hines said, —The church was under tremendous pressure. You may think your city is bad, but you haven't lived where Satan lives!" While the church itself was holding on to the name of Jesus, some people in the congregation were holding on the teachings of Balaam and the Nicolaitans.

Using the example of the Trojan horse and the fall of Troy to illustrate his point, Pastor Hines said, —Balaam gave advice on how to infiltrate and destroy from inside and the Nicolaitans had them [the church] compromise themselves."

Telling of the dangers of compromise Hines said, —The world began to change the church, rather than the church changing the world. Compromise blows us off course. That's what the devil wants to do to the church and in our life —get us to go in a different direction." A video clip of a mother duck with a dozen ducklings in tow was used to illustrate how easily gusting wind scatters the brood in a different direction.

On one hand Jesus commended the church in Pergamum, but He also said they must repent, —..Otherwise, I will soon come to you and will fight against them with the sword of my mouth" (vs.16).

Making application to the church today the pastor said, —Sometimes we're carried along by our parent's faith. There comes a time for those who have grown up in the church to ask, —Ae we going to live off our parent's faith, or are we going to live off our own faith?'"

Making personal application the pastor said, —You can see outward persecution, but you can't see compromise. Everybody should examine the Scripture because it then becomes you; you own it. When you know what is real [the Word of God] you won't be fooled by anything false. The only answer is to know the real thing. Don't allow compromise in our lives, or in our church."

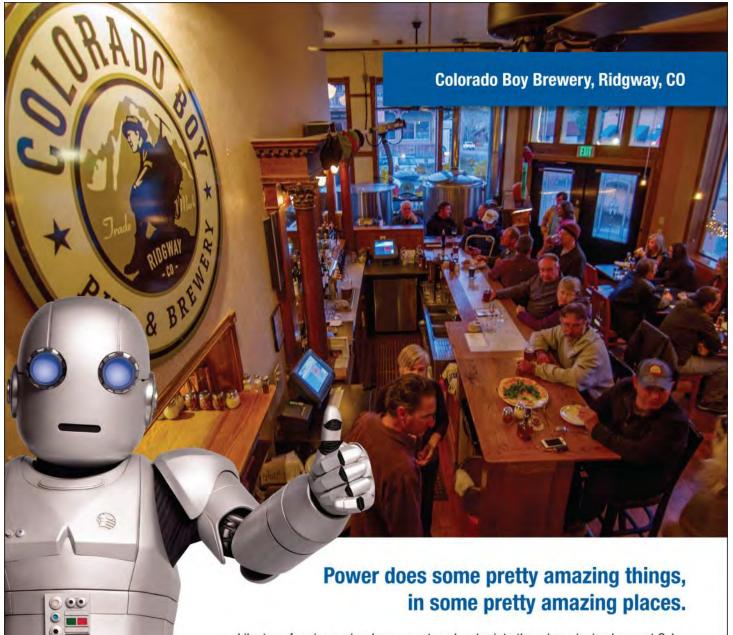

The service concluded with an altar call for those who wanted to come forward to pray, or to ask for prayers.

HEARTS AND HANDS NEEDED FOR INNOVATION AFTER SCHOOL PROGRAM

By Susan Bony
Special to the Mirror
MONTROSE-It takes a community to raise a child. The Innovation After School Program for all area middle school age students is looking for instructors for its classes. Classes will begin on September 8th at Centennial Middle School. You need a willingness to work with kids instructing them about something you like to do or know a lot about. The class can be on just about anything; such as enrichment classes in cooking or sewing, physical activity such as golf or yoga, and educational classes. The commitment is only 8 weeks for a couple of hours on a weekday day of your choice. Call the Innovation After School program office at 252-7931 if you are interested.

It is also very expensive to raise a child (or run a program). The non-profit Community Heart & Hands (CHH) is providing funds towards running the Innovation After School Program. This money is coming out of their operating reserves and without community financial support this will be a one term program. CHH was hoping to jump-start community support for our middle school students' education and enrichment. CHH is looking for businesses or individuals to sponsor a class, to donate the fees for a student who cannot afford them, and to help with the overall program expenses. All donations are tax deductible. Donations can be sent to Community Heart & Hands at 121 N. Park Ave., suite C, Montrose, CO 81401. For more information or to volunteer call CHH at 249-9639.

FERRIS BUELLER ACTRESS COMING TO RIDGWAY FOR SCREENING TUESDAY

By Tanya Ishikawa RIDGWAY—Ife moves pretty fast. If you don't stop and look around once in a while, you could miss it."

This philosophical statement was a line spoken by the main character in the 1986 film Ferris Bueller's Day Off.

At 13, Katie Barberi was living by that sentiment when she grabbed a spontaneous opportunity to appear in the film, directed by John Hughes whose other teen comedy classics included The Breakfast Club, Sixteen Candles, and Weird Science.

Barberi, who achieved television and film success over the past 30 years, will visit Ridgway Tuesday to enjoy a showing of Ferris Bueller, as part of the Townie Tuesday movie series in Town Park.

As an unexpected special guest, she will share inside information about the making of the _80s classic before watching the film including her first big-screen performance – all eight seconds of it – with the rest of the crowd.

Ferris Bueller's Day Off is showing at the Townie Tuesday Picture Show: Ridgway Town Park, Tuesday, Sept. 1, at dusk (approximately 7:42 p.m.)

THANKS PARD!

Were it not for the many people who have given much, worked countless hours, contributed ideas and resources, and most of all, believe in the values and spirit of the American West, the 2015 Mountain States Ranch Rodeo would not have been possible. From the first days when conversations began about producing a premier ranch rodeo event in Montrose, Colorado, we immediately received support from regional business people and local officials. Over the following weeks, as word of a top quality ranch rodeo spread, calls and emails began arriving in ever-increasing numbers.

We have been overwhelmed by contacts from neighboring communities offering to support and help ensure the success of the Mountain States Ranch Rodeo. Along with our wonderful group of staff members and volunteers, our "neighbors" in western Colorado and beyond spread the word, referred sponsors and advertisers, and traveled miles to be participate in the event. To all of you, we say "Thanks Pard."

To our contestants, we extend our sincere appreciation. You are the stars of the performance. Your commitment to the ranching industry, our western heritage and the cowboy way is why we created the Mountains States Ranch Rodeo. We salute you, your families and your example of freedom. Creating and producing a major event of such size can be like climbing on a buckin' horse for the first time. It's a mix of excitement along with a little apprehension. Thanks to our great supporters, families and friends, our first ride in Montrose was a tremendously positive achievement. We are grateful for your help. We hope you're proud of the results. Now, we look forward to the 2016 Mountain States Ranch Rodeo in Montrose. In doing so, we see an even bigger schedule of events with more attractions and entertainment. If you are interested in joining our team of sponsors and volunteers, we invite you to contact us at info@mountainstatesranchrodeo.com or (970) 240-4176.
