MEA FIBER PROJECT GOES LIVE THIS MO

Mirror Staff Report

REGIONAL-Delta-Montrose Electric Association (DMEA) is completing a "Make ready Walk Through" of their system to get 30,000 local meters ready for the arrival of Broadband later this month. Pictured are Lee and Chris Cohick, working in the East Montrose (EMO) neighborhood last week, talking to coop members about the enhanced services. DMEA recently announced the launch of a new fiber broadband company, Elevate Fiber, to bring reliable, quality internet service to members in Montrose and Delta counties-at the fastest speeds available in the U.S. At the annual meeting on June 16 at Friendship Hall (4:30 to 8:30 p.m.), DMEA will demonstrate video streaming as well as file downloads and uploads on 1,000 Mbps (1Gig) internet service. Members located within Elevate's first phase will have the ability to pre-sign up for service and select from a variety of speeds and packages. Paonia, Montrose downtown business district, and Cobble Creek are the first three zones available for preregistration. Visit join.elevatefiber.com beginning June 19 for information on service at your location. A 12-month contract with a minimum service level of $49.95 per month is required. Elevate internet service will be required for voice service.

Contractors Lee (left) and Chris Cohick were out performing a "Make Ready Walk Through" of DMEA's service area last week to prepare for broadband implementation later this month.

INFORMATIVE PLAQUES NEED REPLACED City May Already Have Second Set, Cox Says

An informational plaque at Demoret Park has worn out, but the City should have a replacement set on hand, according to those who worked on the original project in 1997.

By Caitlin Switzer

MONTROSE-It was 1997 when a dedicated team of volunteers led by former Montrose Historical Museum Director Marilyn Cox created a series of interpretive plaques that designated a self-guided walking tour of Montrose's Downtown (Cox is also co-author of the excellent Montrose: Take a Closer Look: A Walking Tour Guide (Preservation Publishing, 2006). The walking tour extends from the Montrose County Historical Museum at the old Denver & Rio Grande Depot to Centennial Plaza. In response to recent comments on the part of DDA Director Lance Michaels that the plaques are now wearing out, Cox stated that a second set of replacement plaques should have been provided to the City at the time of the Walking Tour project's completion.

"There are eight small plaques, and four larger ones," Cox said. "The

COLLECTOR SPOTLIGHT: PAUL MILLER!

By Gail Marvel

MONTROSE-Most people know longtime Montrose resident Paul Miller as having a career in guns — a gun range owner, shooting teacher and bullet maker. However, to those in the Black Canyon Classic Car Club he is known as a car collector. Paul downplayed his extensive collection, "Oh, I don't know. I have a bunch...quite a few. Some of them are parts-cars. I just like cars. I'm not a big muscle car fan...I like cars that are different."

A recent vehicle acquisition for Paul is this black 2006 Chrysler Crossfire convertible, "The only thing Chrysler about it is the name Chrysler...everything else is Mercedes-Benz and the body is designed by Karmann Ghia."

Paul estimates that the Crossfire, which has 60,000 miles on it, can go from zero to

60 in about four seconds, "It has a 3.2 liter V6 engine and a five speed automatic."

The Crossfire needs no restoration, "I'm too old for that. I like to have something [a car] that I don't have to do anything to it." When in Arizona Paul sometimes attends three or four car shows on a Saturday, but he doesn't view his purchases as a way to turn a profit, "I buy them, but I don't sell them. I just like cars."

eight smaller ones are placed up and down Main Street, in places where you can look up and see the building you are reading about. The four larger ones have more general information, on subjects like water, history, and the Ute Indians."

For years the signage was washed and cared for by Community Options clients, Cox noted. And while that is no longer the case, "I think now they expect that the owners of the buildings described will come out and wipe the plaques off once in a while," she said. "They are cracked, and in terrible shape, especially the one in Demoret Park. But they are still readable."

Though the City has moved the plaques around from time to time, they have always treated the interpretive signs with respect, she noted. "I know that the signs do need to be restored," Cox said. "We want people to be aware of our community's history. If they can't afford it, I am sure they could apply for a grant. There are and down Main Street, for ways to get these things done, and it shouldn't be that hard to figure out."

The information on the interpretive signage should be preserved intact, however, as the past has not changed. "We researched everything very carefully," Cox said. "We went through everything and checked and double checked; we were trying to make these as good as possible. The other committee members and I put in months—at least 400 hours—to get this done.

"A lot of thought went into those plaques," she said. "Every word has to matter when you don't have much space. And you really can't change history-people want to know the truth."

There used to be a well, that was placed at locations around town.

"We used to do tours up local schools and for lots of reasons," Cox said. "These signs condensed the information and gave a general history of these buildings. I can remember people taking the tour, and saying they would never think about our Downtown the same way again. The people who first came to town had such hopes and dreams' these buildings are not just made of brick and stone, they are made of people," Cox said. "Don't forget the past, because it is still a part of the future."

CITY RESPONSE TO MIRROR PUBLIC INFORMATION REQUEST

By Caitlin Switzer

MONTROSE-After learning that the house at 534 South First (above) is scheduled to be torn down or donated to Museum of the Mt. West, we filed a request for information to learn more. Below is the response we received from Asst. City Clerk Carolyn Bellavance: "Hello Ms. Switzer, I am following up on your Request for Public Records for "All records pertaining to acquisition, renovation, and future plans for house at 534 S. First Street" submitted and received 05/26/16 at 9:25 a.m. We were unable to determine in advance the amount of time that would be spent on this task. Because of this and the fact that you were unaware of a reasonable expected fee, time incurred by city clerk office staff is being waived. To date, our facilities manager has himself devoted five hours to this request. As you know, the first hour spent on satisfying CORA requests is complimentary. We are waiving two of the four remaining billable hours (50%) and billing the Montrose Mirror $60.00 ($30/ hour x 2). We hope you will agree this to be a fair position.

As we are not yet finished with compiling all of the information requested, we want to notify you that additional staff time to continue with this research is necessary and will be billed to the Montrose Mirror at the rate of $30/hour. Please let us know if you would like to pursue this request and/or narrow your search parameters. We do not anticipate more than three additional hours to fully complete your request. Also, you requested information to be emailed, however, so far there are 414 documents that would need to be saved to a disc (possibly more than 1 disc). The $25/disc fee will be waived.

Please let me know how you would like to proceed. In the meantime, consistent

"FOR A BUSINESS, IT'S A GREAT DEAL" Delta's ProSpace Invests in Solarize Delta County Initiative

By Caitlin Switzer DELTA-Youth is no prerequisite for innovative thinking. For longtime Delta County business owner Tom Huerkamp, 76, solar energy represents the future in many ways a power source that benefits the bottom line and contributes to a brighter tomorrow. Now, Huerkamp's company, ProSpace has become the first large scale investor in the Solarize Delta County initiative launched earlier this year.

"We are nearing completion of a 25kw solar array on our warehouse here in Delta," Huerkamp said. "I believe it is the largest private sector system to date in Delta County. Cut over is set for June 6;" it will produce 125 percent of our electric use on an annualized basis.

"For a business, it's a great deal," he said. A joint venture between Delta County Economic Development (DCED) and Solar International of Paonia, Solarize Delta County grew out of the successful Solarize North Fork Valley campaign in 2015, which generated more than $400,000 in local investment through solar installations.

According to the Solar International web site, the goal of the Solarize programs is to overcome three obstacles to the use of solar energy—cost, complexity and customer inertia.

Brad Burritt of Empowered Energy Systems helped bring the ProSpace project to fruition, Huerkamp said, and Delta Montrose Electric Association(DMEA)'s reverse net metering has contributed to its viability.

"On our investment of $80,000, my company is able to claim a $24,000 federal tax credit," Huerkamp said. "I can write off $25,000 the first year for new equipment, and the rest can be depreciated over a seven-year period."

More than 55 local homes and businesses have now signed up for site analyses through Solarize Delta County, he said.

According to a DCED news release, Solarize Delta County seeks to increase the accessibility and affordability of solar energy for all Delta County residents while raising awareness and lowering the cost of solar electric (PV) systems.

The end goal is to significantly ramp up solar adoption throughout Delta County. The Solarize effort will feature outreach and social events from April 15 – July 15.

SAN MIGUEL POWER ANNUAL MEETING JUNE 9 IN NUCLA

Special to the Mirror

NUCLA-San Miguel Power Association (SMPA) will hold its 77th Annual Meeting of Members at its Nucla Office (170 W 10th Ave, Nucla, Colorado) on Thursday, June 9th. Member registration and voting for this year's Board Elections will be held from 4:30 pm to 5:30 pm. At 5:30, the polls will close and the business meeting will begin. Dinner will be provided. SMPA is a member-owned cooperative. Anyone who pays an electric bill to SMPA is a member-owner, and is, therefore, eligible to vote for director representatives to sit on SMPA's governing Board. SMPA's service territory is divided into seven districts. Each district elects their director to serve a four-year term. Usually, two districts hold elections in a calendar year. In 2016, the District No. 1 and No. 4 Board seats are up for election.

In District No.1, which includes the West End of Montrose County, as well as Basin & Slick Rock, the candidates are Tom Loczy & Doylene Garvey. In District No.4, which includes Colona, Log Hill, and areas surrounding Telluride, the candidates are Jack Sibold & Toby Brown. Ballots have been mailed to members of these districts. Mail-in ballots must be received by June 8th, or members may vote at the Annual Meeting (4:30 pm to 5:30 pm). Mail-in votes may not be changed at the Annual Meeting. Election results will be announced at the conclusion of the meeting.

SMPA's Annual Meeting of Members is one of the most important events for all members to attend. It is an opportunity for members of the cooperative to gather and review the activities of the association over the past year. This year's presentation will be accompanied by two additional features:

Colorado State Representative, Don Coram will speak. Rep. Coram serves on the House Transportation and Energy Committee, and has fostered legislation in support of small hydroelectric generation within the state. As an advocate of an "allof-the-above" energy policy, Rep. Coram will bring a broad and informed perspective on energy issues.

Afterwards, SMPA's wholesale power provider, Tri-State Generation and Transmission will take the stage and share their ideas on such topics as fuel mix, energy rates, and future plans for infrastructure and the changing industry. But there will be more than just business at the SMPA Annual Meeting. A familyfriendly event, the Annual Meeting will host games, prizes and activities. Among these attractions will be: Bucket truck rides, the Energy Bike, on which participants can generate their own electricity, SMPA's new electric vehicle, the

"Lightning Bug," and a fun solar energy game called "Jitter Critters."

There will also be door prizes and every member in attendance will receive a $10 bill credit.

An election, valuable information, food and fun; they're all reasons to attend the SMPA Annual Meeting, from 4:30 - 7 pm, on June 9th at the SMPA headquarters in Nucla, Colorado.

San Miguel Power Association, Inc. is a member-owned, locally-controlled rural electric cooperative with offices in Nucla and Ridgway, Colo. It is the mission of San Miguel Power Association to demonstrate corporate responsibility and community service while providing our members safe, reliable, cost effective and environmentally responsible electrical service. SMPA serves approximately 9,600 members and 14,000 meters and supports local communities with $300,000 annually in property taxes and $400,000 in energy efficiency and renewable energy rebates. SMPA is an equal opportunity provider and employer.

BEARDED MAN WITH BMX BIKE ATTEMPTS TO ENTER MOM'S VEHICLE

To Our Readers: There appears to be a predator in our town targeting mothers with kids. I recently shared an experience that my 12-year-old son and I had when a man tried to enter our vehicle while we were driving on South First Street at 4 p.m. on a Friday afternoon. He had crossed in front of us, looked into our car, and then suddenly opened the rear passenger door and began to step in. He looked directly in my eyes with an evil smile as I hit the gas. Several local moms commented at the time that they had encountered a man similar to the one I described, and had noticed him watching them. On Friday June 3, I spoke to another mom who had just had a very frightening experience with a man trying to enter her car in the vicinity of Downtown while her children were with her. Her description of the man and what happened was eerily similar to the incident my 12-year-old and I experienced. Though it was dark when her incident occurred, she saw that the intruder was bearded, very skinny, and had a dark BMX bicycle with him. My own experience was in daylight, and I saw that the man trying to enter my car (very skinny, bearded) also had extensive, dark neck tattoos. Please keep your eyes and ears open, and lock your car doors; this man targets mothers and children in older model cars--the kind that don't lock automatically. —Caitlin Switzer

MONTROSE-Chartered in 2002, the Black Canyon Astronomical Society currently has 55 members. Although membership comes from four different counties, the majority of the membership is evenly split between Montrose and Delta and meeting locations vary to accommodate both communities.

The mission statement for the Society: "Unite and stimulate the energy, public interest, and knowledge of astronomy in southwestern Colorado. [To] collect and disseminate information regarding the science, literature, philosophy and art of astronomy. [To] encourage the preservation of dark skies. [To] render the universe readily accessible for the pleasure and education of the public.'

Yearly dues are $15 for individuals, $25 for families and students are free. The public is welcome, but because meetings and locations are so varied those interested should call or email for times and locations.

Vice-President Art Trevena said, "We meet once a month January thru October, but we don't meet in November or December. We try to meet close to a full moon."

The Black Canvon of the Gunnison National Park is now certified as an Interna-

Art reported on the Nasa Ceres Dawn Mission — an orbital mission mapping the surface of Ceres; and on the New Horizons Pluto program — a flyby launched in 2006.

Art said, "In a flyby you only have a few days and a lot of science is done fast. Mapping is not high resolution, there's not a lot of good chemistry work."

Re-occurring Slope Lineae (RSL's) are streaks that form on the slopes of Mars in the spring and summer and then disappear in the cold season.

Art said, "The streaks have been known for five or six years, but there is still debate...some say it's water seepage, others say the streaks are dry dust avalanches."

BUCKHORN ROAD TO BE IMPROVED THROUGH MULTI-JURISDICTIONAL EFFORT

Special to the Mirror

REGIONAL— Access to the beautiful Buckhorn Lakes Park will be greatly improved following a road closure scheduled Saturday, June 4 to Saturday June 18. The closure begins from mile marker seven at the Bureau of Land Management (BLM) corral and allows officials to replace culverts, regrade and improve drainage.

SAN JUAN COUNTY – The Colorado Department of Transportation (CDOT) will begin a patch work and chip seal project on US 550 near Silverton. The three day project will start Monday, June 6 on a stretch of highway between MM 69 and MM 73, on either side of the highway entrance to the town of Silverton. The preventative maintenance project for the five mile expanse of road is expected to be completed by June 8.

TRAVEL IMPACTS: Motorists should expect single-lane alternating traffic with up to 15 or 20 minute delays during working daylight hours. DELTA COUNTY MEMORIAL HOSPITAL AMONG TOP 20 RURAL COMMUNITY HOSPITALS IN THE NATION

Jody Roeber, Chief Clinical Officer for Delta County Memorial Hospital, received the Top 20 Rural Community Hospitals in the Nation for 2016 on behalf of DCMH at a recent National Rural Health Association awards luncheon in Minneapolis, MN. Courtesy photo.

Special to the Mirror DELTA-Delta County Memorial Hospital has been named as one of the 2016 top 20 rural community hospitals out of 525 rural community hospitals in the nation by the National Rural Health Association (NRHA), in a recent announcement.

"DCMH is honored to receive this national recognition as a rural hospital providing quality medical care at the highest level to Delta County families. It is gratifying to receive an award and the recognition on behalf of our hard working and committed medical staff and hospital employees," CEO Jason Cleckler said.

NRHA determined the top rural community hospitals based on a hospital strength index compiled by iVantage Health Analytics and nine pillars of excellence. Rural community hospitals with the highest aggregate scores from the nine pillars were identified as one of the top 20 rural community hospitals in the nation. The pillars of excellence included: 1) inpatient market share; 2) outpatient market share; 3) population risk; 4) cost; 5) risk; 6) quality; 7) outcomes; 8) patient outcomes; and 9) financial stability.

"Thank you to the medical staff, hospital administration and all hospital employees for their commitment and contributions to the hospital, that allowed DCMH to achieve this national recognition in helping to provide superior medical services to the community," commented David Lane, chair of the DCMH board of directors.

It is the first rating system to incorporate market position, competitive intensity and growing healthcare demand, according to sources at iVantage. This system is modeled on research-based financial rations most determinant of long-term financial sustainability. The study is unique because it is founded on the belief that a strong hospital/system has the following characteristics in the new health care: Low Levels of population-related risk Dominant market position related to inpatient and outpatient services Outstanding quality and safety programsLoyal, satisfied patients Cost efficient and appropriately priced services Strong balance sheet with surplus capital The other Colorado hospital named by NRHA as in the top 20 rural community hospitals is Yampa Valley Medical Center in Steamboat Springs.

NRHA is a national non-profit membership organization headquartered in Leawood, KS with more than 20,000 members across the nation. The association's mission is to provide leadership on rural health issues. NRHA membership consists of a diverse collection of individuals and organizations, all of whom share the common bond of an interest in rural health.

HOPEWEST RECEIVES PERFECT RESULTS ON UNANNOUNCED STATE SURVEY

Special to the Mirror

REGIONAL-HopeWest received perfect results for the second consecutive time on an unannounced, onsite survey of hospice organizations conducted every three years by the Health Facilities Division of the Colorado Department of Public Health and Environment (CDPHE).

"We are thrilled to have received notice that no deficiencies were cited for our survey!" Terri Walter, Chief Administrative Officer and Senior Vice President said. "It is not unusual for a hospice to receive deficiencies from a survey and this shows the tremendous effort on the part of all staff to provide excellent care in the framework of the necessary regulations. We feel that this level of quality in care really sets us apart from other hospices."

CDPHE is the state survey agency that looks for compliance with Colorado licensure laws as well as compliance with Medicare conditions of participation for hospice organizations in Colorado.

The goal of the survey is to assure the hospice is following state and federal regulations – from administration organization to quality of patient care.

The surveyors make visits to current patients, talk with family members and staff, review medical records, review policies and procedures and assess the hospice's quality management program. If any deficiencies are cited by the surveyors, the hospice must prepare a "plan of correction" and a re-evaluation takes place in the near future. Results of the surveys become part of the public record maintained by CDPHE.

Since the inception of HopeWest in 1993, the organization has experienced significant growth and expansion, both programmatically and geographically. From approximately 200 families in the first year of service to more than 3,000 families currently,

HopeWest continues to grow to serve the community's needs.

HopeWest serves Mesa, Montrose, Delta, Ouray and Rio Blanco Counties, with the administrative headquarters located in Grand Junction, Colorado. The organization provides comprehensive hospice, palliative care and grief related services throughout Western Colorado through its five sites.

HopeWest is a community-based 501 (c)(3) organization, governed by a Board of Directors and founding President/CEO, Christy Whitney, RN, MSN. HopeWest has become well-known for its innovations in end of life care directed at meeting the unique needs of rural areas of the state.

The organization stretches to close the gaps in care when reimbursement is lacking, as well as develop new programs to serve the "un-served" and "underserved" throughout the Western Slope.

WRIGHT OPERA HOUSE HOSTS BOB FROESE MEMORIAL ART EXHIBITION

Special to the Mirror

OURAY-The Wright Opera House is host to a memorial exhibit of the works of Bob Froese opening Sun June 19 and going through July. There will be a reception on June 19 from 4-7. Froese was a wellknown artist in western Colorado and nationwide. He can best be described as a representational painter and colorist. For Froese, color and spatial relationship were more important than the subject. Mary Voelz Chandler, art editor for the Rocky Mountain News, described his work "He makes even blocks of difficult colors such as orange contribute to a sense of layering and perspective." Froese received his BFA from Kansas City Art Institute and his MFA from Boston University. He spent his early career in Kansas, where he was chairman of the Fine Arts and Humanities Dept. at Hutchinson Community College., and married his wife of 51 years Dottie Cheever.

In Sept. 1976 Dottie and Bob purchased the St. Elmo Hotel, they moved to Ouray the following January and began the task of bringing the St. Elmo to life.

The Froeses were active community members, Dottie, the school librarian and Bob, creator of the beautiful paintings used as posters for Music in Ouray and Artists Alpine Holiday. While in Ouray, Froese was his most creative and happy according to his wife. They regretfully
